During the past few months, Mr. Lynde, the owner of the White Cloud ferry, has crossed over to this side of the river 1400 prairie schooners, containing those who had been driven from their homes in Dakota and Nebraska by the drought. These people should not be what a lawyer would call a "pauper," but on the contrary, they should be given a helping hand and assisted as much as possible. But a few months ago, when the drought was at its height, they were driven from their homes and their property was destroyed by the drought. They have now been driven back toward the "rising sun" to visit their "wife's relations."

The Schuttler wagon has been built expressly for the trying climate of the west, and the rough usage of the mountains, for nearly half a century, and in consequence of the special experience that has been gained by the use of the Schuttler wagon, it stands supreme and without a rival among wagons. It gives better value in return for the money paid out than any other known. The user gets his money's worth, besides the saving in time, temper, trouble and repair bills; and the dealer has equal reason to be pleased with a wagon that gives him no annoyance after it leaves his store. We do hope for the success of the Republican party in Holt county that the new county central committee will choose Hon. H. T. Aiken as its chairman. No man in the county is so well equipped for this special work as he, and the party at this time can hardly afford to lose him for any other position. He has a long list of names who are ready to back up his being its chairman.

The horses on the Schuttler wagon will stay together better and will last much longer than others. The rods are larger rods and are let into the sides where rods screw in. On these so-called "rod" wagons, you pay out one 25 cents after nothing for the rods, but maybe you think those cheap wagons are as good as the Peter Schuttler.

H. C. SCHMIDT, Agent.

Some of our exchanges seem to take considerable pride in pointing to the fact that "Billy" Ellison, the Democratic candidate for congress, is a lawyer. If the present congress is a sample of what a lawyer can do for this district by sending him to congress, the best thing for the people of the district to do is to vote in such a way as to "kill" him.

And as a general thing you can trust the people.

Joseph Watson, of this city, has a curiosity that he recently found a box of old papers and books in his cellar. It is a day book that was used by William Zook in this city in 1845, the first year bearing the date of October 31, 1845. In flipping through it we noticed many familiar names, that have long since passed over to the other side, but are represented here now by their children, many of these children now being grandparents.

If we are to aid the people directly through tariff reform, one of the most obvious features should be a reduction in present tariff charges upon the necessities of life.—Grover Cleveland. Under the new tariff law bread has been reduced from $2.50 to $1.50 per gallon; bay rum, from $1.50 to $1.00 per gallon; champagne, from $5.00 to $7.00 per dozen; quinine, also, porter and beer, from 40 cents to 30 cents per gallon. All these necessities of life, as per request of Grover, have been reduced in the interest of the Western farmer, and the champagne and brandy. How the farmer's heart will rejoice at paying 1/2 to 2 cents more a pound for his sugar for the sake of getting such a reduction on his bread and champagne.

When wheat is as cheap as it is now and corn brings as good a price as at present, I want my horse on wheat. This is what we hear one of our farmers, who was discussing the grain situation, say. "A bushel of wheat contains as much nourishment as a bushel and a half of corn, and corn is worth more per bushel than wheat. It is a fact that a half bushel of wheat will feed a horse and a half bushel of corn will feed a horse and a half. I find that it is just as well as corn. I have a horse and I want to feed him wheat and corn. He is all going to be fattened on wheat unless there is some unforeseen change in the market between this and cold weather."

In our announcement column this week will be found the name of the Hon. Nicholas Murray, whose name will be submitted to the Republican convention, for the nomination for representative.
